

The Clay Studio

IN 2021

OUR WELCOMING NEW HOME In the vibrant South Kensington neighborhood will propel us forward as a leader in ceramics

A PREVIEW OF WHAT'S COMING

- 32,000 square foot facility with rooftop garden and outdoor pavilion
- double the number of classrooms
- new spaces dedicated to youth classes and after-school programs
- more and larger artist studios and a dedicated studio for visiting artists
- the most technologically advanced art-making equipment
- larger galleries for more dynamic exhibitions and installations
- larger, more flexible public spaces for special events and conferences

Designed by Digsau Architects, The new Clay Studio will be the first of its kind ceramic arts facility built from the ground up in the United States.

With a recent award from the Windgate Foundation, we now have a remaining $1.5 million to raise for this $13.7 million project, and we plan to break ground in the fall of 2019.

This is a defining moment, when our shared creativity and support becomes an even greater force for good.

Jennifer D. Martin
Executive Director

Clay Together

THE CLAY STUDIO | 137-139 N SECOND STREET | PHILADELPHIA, PA 19106 | THECLAYSTUDIO.ORG