Thank you!

With every sponsorship, ticket, live and silent auction, cup grab, and raffle sheet sold, Mud Ball raised just shy of $110,000. We are beyond grateful for the generous support you have shown us that keeps artists, students, teachers, schoolchildren, and an enthused public working in and enjoying the art and craft of clay. Thank you!

While we have you, SAVE THE DATE: next year’s Mud Ball will be on April 17, 2020.

Tea Ceremony and Artist Talk: Sept 7 | 1 - 3 pm

Tea Housing will highlight Candy Coated's new tea bowl designs and tea settings inspired by a love of green tea, the act of tea making, and recent porcelain artist residency in China. Candy, a Former Resident Artist at The Clay Studio, served as a Guest Artist at TCS this summer while she prepared for this celebration of her recent artistic explorations.

From Storage to Studio
The Clay Studio Resident Artists Explore The Philadelphia Museum of Art Collections
Sept 14 - Nov 17 • Harrison and Reed+Smith Gallery
Reception and Panel Discussion: Sept 21 | 4 - 6 pm

This exhibition will present work by 14 current and former Resident Artists at The Clay Studio alongside inspiration works from the collections of the Philadelphia Museum of Art. The artists were welcomed to explore art storage at the PMA by seven curators from across departments. This unprecedented project allowed the artists to research the collections, explore storage, and choose an object to study and use as inspiration. In Fall 2019, to coincide with the American Craft Council national conference in Philadelphia, the inspiration objects will be on view at The Clay Studio alongside the new work by each of the participating artists. The participating curators' collections include East Asian Art, Dutch Ceramics, European Contemporary Design, European Decorative Arts before 1700, historic American Decorative Arts and Contemporary Craft. We are honored and excited to be working with this generous group of curators. A hardback catalog will accompany this remarkable exhibition.

Julia Galloway
Endangered Species Project for Pennsylvania
Oct 4 - Nov 17 • Bonovitz Gallery
First Friday Reception: Oct 4 | 5 - 8 pm

Julia Galloway believes that we need to have some hope during a time of uncertainty. While this installation of plates commemorating the 358 endangered species in Pennsylvania is intended to make the viewer feel the enormity of that number, on the back of each plate there is a brief essay about the species in general, as well as information about what we can do to support their repopulation.

Stephanie Kantor
Zeldin Fellow Exhibition
Nov 23 - Jan 5 • Reed+Smith Gallery

Kantor is drawn to the ocean as a meditative and mysterious place. Ancient stories, mythologies, and the contemporary culture that surrounds beach towns and vacation destinations drive this body of work. With a playful and humorous approach, she makes sculptures and paintings that explore the desire to be surrounded by water and emphasize the mundane objects that embody that experience.

Katherine Hackl
Nov 23 - Jan 5 • Bonovitz Gallery

Katherine Hackl's distinctive pottery is a collection of hand-thrown functional stoneware and porcelain forms decorated with either hand-carved sgraffito or a new etched porcelain process. Each piece is a unique combination of elegant forms layered with botanical images, patterns, and illustrations.

Holiday Ornaments
Nov 23 - Jan 5 • Harrison Gallery

The Holiday season at The Clay Studio is always festive. Come shop our gallery of fabulous one-of-a-kind ornaments, giftable ceramic art, and treats for your own holiday decor.
