WELCOME TO THE CLAY STUDIO!

Welcome new and returning students to The Clay Studio (TCS)! Thank you for taking classes with us this term. Please use this guide as a reference tool for classes and TCS's School. While you are here to take classes, remember that there is much more to TCS; details on our programs can be found towards the end of this guide.

Founded in 1974, The Clay Studio continues in the belief that shared creativity, so fundamental to humanity, is a critical force for good. The Clay Studio supports the ceramic arts through its artist residencies, gallery, studio space, school, educational and community engagement programs, and permanent collection. The Clay Studio inspires curiosity and discovery around the art and craft of clay, drawing together students, artists, and an engaged public into a welcoming community.

Shared Community Agreement

Core Diversity Values and Guidelines

The Clay Studio believes that a welcoming environment is critical to our Diversity Equity, Access, and Inclusion work. We do not tolerate anti-Blackness, racism, sexism, ageism, homophobia, transphobia, white supremacy, colonialism, hatred, or any other forms of discrimination and oppression. This extends to artists, students, customers, employees, board members, volunteers, interns, and patrons. We do not discriminate based on race, ethnic identity, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, socio-economic background, or religion. We are a safe place for citizens and non-citizens alike. We strive to accommodate those of any age and physical ability.

We hold ourselves and each member of our community accountable and expect everyone to embrace and uphold these values. We will act swiftly and respectfully to correct the behavior that goes against these core values. We do not tolerate hate speech, violence, or intimidation. We also acknowledge that microaggressions can occur in less intentional but equally harmful manifestations. Therefore, The Clay Studio is prepared to take corrective actions that will seek to make room for education and conflict resolution before becoming punitive. We come from a place of respect and kindness but are committed to our responsibility to uphold shared community values. The Clay Studio asks that each member of our community commit to our agreement to ensure that we intentionally acknowledge our individual roles in creating a welcoming environment for all. Details of expectations, reporting, and review process may be found in our Code of Conduct on our website under registration info and policies.

The Clay Studio Shared Community Agreement

As a member of our community, you support our mission and values of access, community, inclusivity, and accountability. We agree:

- We all have a shared responsibility in creating the space, support, and inspiration necessary for expression and mastery in the ceramic arts.
- We welcome each other with open hearts and share space so all can learn and thrive.
- We respect others: including their work, perspectives, and diverse backgrounds.
- Everyone has something to learn; everyone has something to teach.
- To be present & gentle with ourselves: Embrace the time we have given ourselves to be in the studio and with others; practice makes progress, not perfection.

Please don't store anything in the fridge as it is cleaned out weekly. TCS reserves the right to close any studio or shared space as needed.

Studio Resources

- Students are not allowed to hang anything on/outside of the cubbies or in the studios (even if it is removable). We are always open to suggestions for changes; you are always welcome to email us.
- Each cubby is a personal space. Please do not remove tools, clay or work from other people's cubbies.
- If you want to switch cubbies with someone, or move to a different location, please let our staff know, or send an email to Education@theclaystudio.org

- The black buckets with TCS logos and the big sponges with "TCS" on them are communal tools. Please clean and put them back on the wheels or above the sinks before you leave the studio. Please do not store them in your cubby. We will empty the content and put them back into circulation if we see a bucket in your cubby.
- Please scrape off excess clay and wipe down the wedging table after using them. And clean the scraper, too
- Please do not use the wedging table to reclaim clay. The wedging tables would get too wet and others wouldn't be able to use them.

Buying Clay & Tools + Details Regarding Outside Materials

Clay and tools are available to purchase from the gallery shop until 6pm Mon-Fri and 5 pm Sat-Sun. In the evenings, the Gallery Shop is available for students to purchase clay and tools the first hour of every class. School store hours are included on the document you've received called "Important Dates and Deadlines" and is also available online.

You may not bring in outside clays, glazes*, mason stains, other materials and/or equipment.

One exception is commercial ^6 clear glaze if approved by the staff. Please have outside non-fluxing underglazes approved by staff as well. Below are the consequences if outside materials are used:

- 1st offense – warning.
- 2nd offense – you will be asked to leave the studio for the remainder of the term, but can return next term (no refunds.)
- 3rd offense – you will be asked to not return to TCS.

Wet Work

You may make new work up until the last 2 weeks of the term to have it in the last glaze firing. For example, if you are taking a 10-week class, you have 7 weeks to make new work, and 2 weeks to finish it. Your last class on the 7th week is your last day to work wet. Your last class in the 8th week is your last day to trim or hand build. Please do not leave all your glazing until the end; you learn more if you glaze throughout the term.

- Carefully sign all your work before you have it fired.
- Production levels of work are not allowed as this is an educational facility. Our aim is to provide a learning environment for as many students as possible, making production amounts of work limits others' access to our kilns and is better suited for our Associates program.
- All work that utilizes TCS's equipment, materials and/or faculty and staff time must be made at The Clay Studio. Work produced must be proportionate to the number of classes enrolled. Students who produce large volumes of work will receive a warning, be charged accordingly, and asked to limit the amount of work and use the kiln rental option.
- Size Limitations: *Work must not exceed 14" length, 14" width, and 18" height.

Glazing

- All Cone 6 and low-fire glazes are located in the glaze room. Please check with your instructor if you have questions about what glazes to use.
- Glazing must be completed by the end of the term.
- If glaze is too close to or on the bottom of a pot, it will be placed on the "needs help" shelf. If you find one of your pots there, clean up the bottom and put it back on the shelf. Please leave a ¼" from the bottom of your piece unglazed.
- Only overlap glazes on the top one-third of your piece. No overlapping at the bottom due to the risk of the glaze combinations running.
- Please thoroughly stir the glaze for 20 seconds before using and be sure to stir materials at the bottom of the bucket.
- All work must have a bare bottom to avoid sticking to the kiln shelf. Stiling is not allowed.

Firing

- Place your work on the correct cart to make sure it is properly fired in a timely manner. Separate carts are clearly marked for bisque and glaze firing.
- Glazed low-fire work must never be placed with objects to be high-fired (it will melt).
- Bisque firings are done continuously.
- REFIRING will only be done when issues caused by firing, such as pinholes or kiln misfires, with a signed firing form by the studio techs. Please ask them for the form.
- If there is enough work, we plan to fire the gas kiln weekly. With enough work, we will also fire a ^03 and ^6 electric kiln weekly.
- Check the carts in the "Fired Artwork" room for finished bisque ware & glaze ware. Please remove your work from these carts when you see them. Works left for extended periods of time contribute to over crowded shelves and make it difficult to locate work.
- Many factors can delay the firing or unloading of a kiln. Please keep this in mind when waiting for work.
- Cracked or broken pieces will not be fired and will be moved to the "needs help shelf" in the glaze room.

Fired Work

- After the final class, all glazed and bisqued work will be marked and available on the designated shelves in the Fired Artwork room.
- Fired bisque and glaze work is held for 2 weeks after the notification email is sent by the Education Coordinator. The cut-off date is posted. Any work left beyond that date will be removed at the discretion of TCS staff.

- Take your work, tools, and leftover clay home with you on your last day of class if you are not taking a class the following term. All items left behind on your shelf will be discarded before the next term begins.

Clean-Up Procedures

It is very important to keep the classrooms and glaze areas clean. Clay and glaze left on the floor will dry and become a fine, nearly invisible silica dust, which is circulated and suspended to float indefinitely in the air. This dust can cause health problems for people who spend a lot of time working in the studios. Please make sure you clean up your trimmings and spills before they become dust. Below are cleanup guidelines:

Clay should NEVER be discarded in the sink. Pour off water into the pans in the sink, and put heavy slip and clay chunks in the reclaim bins found near each sink.

- Thoroughly clean wheels, pans, bench, stools, tables, the floor, the wall behind you, and bats.
- Use the squeegees and dust pans to clean up your clay scraps at your work area, ware boards, and the floor. Use the mops located in the mop closet to clean the floor around your work area.
- After the wheel is clean make sure it is turned off. Put the stool upside down on the wheel head, and place the foot pedal and brick on the wheel's front tray. This lets everyone know that the wheel was cleaned properly and makes mopping easier.
- Scrape and clean the wedging and plaster tables after using them. Do not leave work on tables. Ask your instructor if you need help moving your work.
- Return glazes and cleaned tools to their proper places and clean the glaze counter after you are done. Place lids back on glaze buckets.

Evaluations

Class evaluations are done online at the end of each quarter. We rely on these for guidance in designing and improving the caliber of our classes and offering feedback to our faculty. Please feel free to come and talk to our staff about any immediate concerns.

Claymobile

The Claymobile is an award winning mobile ceramic art program that partners with schools, community-based organizations & social service agencies in the greater Philadelphia region to bring hands-on art education to some of the region's most under-resourced communities. Staffed by professional teaching artists with expertise in ceramics and teaching in diverse settings, the van contains all of the equipment and materials needed for a ceramics class and is also outfitted to transport the finished pieces back.

Resident Artists

The Resident Artist Program is the original basis for The Clay Studio and remains its core program. This juried program attracts ceramic artists of the highest caliber to immerse themselves in their creative growth and professional development. The Studio's reputation as a world class art center and the Resident Artist Program's unique features have made the program extremely competitive, attracting a diverse range of talented artists. Current Resident Artists: Ruth Easterbrook, Dante Gambardella, Adebunmi Gbadebo, Akiko Jackson, Stephanie Kantor, Minah Kim, Josephine Larsen, Liisa Nelson, Christopher Rodgers, Kevin Snipes, Jeanne Robertson, and Jinsik Yoo.

Associate Artists

The Clay Studio's Associate Artist Program is a communal studio shared by forty individuals on a non-juried basis. By making low-cost studio space available to individuals, the program serves an important need within the community. Associate Artists come to the studio in many different ways- some have been long time students who transition into that program to have more space and 24-hour access, while others have a background in clay and are looking for shared resources and a community to work in. See the website for a more information about each artist.
